Detailed Action

The following is responsive to applicant's amendment received Sep. 21, 2005.

Claims 8-10, 12 are cancelled. No new claims are added. Claims 1-7, 11, 13 are currently pending.

The previous rejection of claim 4, set forth in paragraph 1 of the office action mailed July 15, 2005 is withdrawn in view of applicant's amendment and the remarks contained therein.

The previous claim rejections under 35 USC 102(b) over Takahashi et al. (paragraph 2) and Federsel et al. (paragraph 3) set forth in the office action mailed July 15, 2005 are withdrawn in view of applicant's amendment and the remarks contained therein.

However, the discovery of new prior art necessitates the following new ground(s) of rejection.

New Ground(s) of Rejection

Claim Rejection(s)—35 USC 102 or 103(a)

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1614

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

1. Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Toba et al. HCAPLUS abstract.

Toba et al. disclose the compound,

. Please see the abstract submitted herewith.

Since, the oxazole moiety is a cation, the compound as a whole would inherently possess an association with an anionic moiety.

Art Unit: 1614

On the other hand, if not inherent, it would be obvious that the oxazole moiety of the prior art compound would form an association with an anion moiety in solid form.

PLEASE NOTE: an English translation of JP 10-7709 has been requested. Once obtained by the examiner, the translation will be sent to applicant.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-7 and 11 are free from the prior art because the prior art does not disclose or fairly suggest the claimed compounds.

Conclusion

Claim 13 is rejected.
